

RSE in the Entrust Scheme of Work

This document summarises the main RSE content in the Entrust Scheme of Work. It can be used as an appendix to the school's RSE Policy. It could also be shared with parents and carers to show where various concepts are introduced.

This has also been mapped against the statutory guidance for relationships education (REd), health education (H Ed) the Science (Sc) national curriculum and those which might be considered Sex education (S Ed).

In Primary schools sex education is not statutory however within the guidance the Department for Education “continues to recommend therefore that all primary schools should have a sex education programme tailored to the age and the physical and emotional maturity of the pupils. It should ensure that both boys and girls are prepared for the changes that adolescence brings and – drawing on knowledge of the human life cycle set out in the national curriculum for science - how a baby is conceived and born”

The Science National Curriculum for Year 1 requires schools to teach the names of external parts of the body. The Sex Education Forum recommends that this includes external genitalia. This is vital for safeguarding as it gives children the language to describe the private parts of their body and to seek help if they are abused. Within this scheme this vocabulary is introduced in Year 2 although schools may decide to introduce it earlier.

Vocabulary and content which maybe considered as sex education are highlighted in bold.

Within Year 5 and 6 vocabulary relating to the sexual body parts are part of the learning about puberty and the “changing adolescent body”. These are part of the health education curriculum and therefore have to be taught to all children and there is no parental right to withdraw.
